Picture is the soul of film, but (((sound))) is the heartbeat. Mike Kasic has extensive experience working in extreme environments. For over 20 years Mike has worked in every biome on the planet capturing crisp sound and dialogue in the most difficult of locations, whether in a Russian submarine at the bottom of the Pacific, in the vast deserts of Africa, or under the world in Antarctica. His list of credits include substantial work on many award winning programs for the BBC, Discovery, PBS, National Geographic. Mike has recorded sound in over 50 countries. He is equally at home on set and has a reputation for a great attitude, technical savvy and keen ears. His broadcast equipment is state of the art and always ready to roll.
